

Linda K Delinsky, DHSc, LAT, ATC

Troy University
212-D Stadium Tower
Troy, Alabama
ldelinsky@troy.edu
334-670-3468

EDUCATION

- September 2020 – Doctorate of Health Science, Nova Southeastern University, Fort Lauderdale, FL
- May 2009 - Masters of Science in Kinesiology, Lamar University, Beaumont, TX
- May 2006 - Bachelors of Science in Athletic Training, North Georgia College and State University, Dahlonega, GA

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

- August 2021 – New hire; Troy University, Professor and Clinical Education Coordinator Masters of Science Athletic Training; Supervisor: Dr. Troy Coppus
 - Classes
 - Foundations of Athletic Training
 - Therapeutic Interventions
- August 2015 – July 2020: Bethel University, Instructor Athletic Training Program; Supervisor: Dr. Nikki Holland
 - Classes
 - Assessment & Intervention I – Lower Extremity Evaluation
 - Assessment & Intervention II – Upper Extremity Evaluation
 - Clinical I – Emergency Care and Taping & Bracing
 - Clinical II – Principles of Rehabilitation, Therapeutic Modalities
 - Clinical III – General Medicine
 - Emergency Care in Sport
 - Exercise Testing & Prescription
 - Foundations of Athletic Training
 - Introduction to Assessment & Intervention – SOAP, Head, Neck, Cervical and Upper Thoracic Evaluation
 - Medical Terminology
 - Taping & Bracing
 - Preceptor
 - Remediation Coordinator – meet with students who do not pass program exams to reteach the information; retest the students
 - Lab Coordinator – organization and inventory of clinical lab

WORK EXPERIENCE

- 2012-2014: Carson-Newman University, Assistant Athletic Trainer; Supervisor: Mike Van Bruggen
 - Prevent, evaluate, and rehabilitate injuries sustained by student-athletes in practice or competition
 - Maintain student-athlete medical records and updates in ATS
 - Communicate with medical professionals to relay critical information to ensure timely emergent care

